HON. GEO. JENKS DEAD

Was a Prominent Lawyer and Active in National Affairs

ILLNESS PROLONGED

Former Assistant Secretary of the Interior and Solicitor General Under Cleveland.

HE HAS NOTED PUBLIC CAREER.

Brookville, Pa., Feb. 11,—After an illness lasting a year and caused by old age, George Augustus Jenks, one of the best known lawyers of the state, aged 71, died at his home in South Pickering street here at a little after noon Monday.

Mr. Jenks was born in Punxsutawney, Pa., March 26, 1836. In early life he was thrown on his own resources, following the death of his father, and, after a few years as an apprentice to a builder, he engaged in school teaching and civil engineering in the latter occupation he assisted in laying out the city of Omaha, Neb. In the fall of 1855 he entered the law class of Jefferson college and was graduated three years later and admitted to the Jefferson county bar in '59.

In the fall term of court of the same year he had his first court case and, so prominent was his legal opponent, I. G. Gordon, and the importance of the suit, that he was thereafter employed in a great number of important cases in Western and Central Pennsylvania

Although having a large practice, he always found time to take interest in local politics, and as a result of this was, in 1874, tendered the Democratic nomination for congress against Gen. Henry White. He won despite the fact that the district was usually overwhelmingly. Republican, and took a seat in the Forty-fourth congress. His career in the national legislature was brilliant, he being one of the hard workers of that body.

During his first term Mr. Jenks was made chairman of the committee on invalid pensions, a very important body at that time, so soon after the civil war. The report on the condition of and workings of the pension bureau, derived from an investigation engineered by him, was a masterful piece of work and was followed with a bill introduced by him to prevent abuses in the bureau The legal prominence of Mr. Jenks caused the house to elect him as one of seven to conduct the impeachment of Secretary Belknap. Mr. Jenks assisted in drawing up the petitions in this famous case, and also made one of the arguments on the question of the jurisdiction of the senate to impeach after the officer has resigned.

In 1885 Mr. Jenks was appointed assistant secretary of the interior, but resigned the following year. A few months later he was nominated by President Cleveland for the post of solicitor general of the United States, and his nomination was confirmed by the senate without it being referred to a committee—a rare compliment. During his term as solicitor general he was frequently called upon to act as attorney general in the absence of Mr. Garland. He resigned from this office on the election of Benjamin Harrison, but was retained by Attorney General Miller as special attorney for the government to assist in the cases of the Bell Telephone and Pacific railroad cases, with which he was especially familiar.

Mr. Jenks was the Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in 1898, running against William A. Stone and Silas C. Swallow, and was the nominee of the legislative caucus for United States senator the next year.

Mr. Jenks was married in 1860 to Miss Mary A. Mabon. Their daughter is now the wife of Former Congressman B. F. Shively of Indiana.

No arrangements for the funeral have been made, but it will probably be held in Brookville next Thursday. He leaves besides his widow and daughter, one sister, Mrs. Mary C. Gordon, of this place, and a brother, James C. Jenks of Missoula, Mont.

—We have some wonderful inventions today and inventors are still at, but they haven't invented anything that can successfully rid the country of tramps. This is proven by the fact that some tramps were in this vicinity not long ago

MACCABEES

Have a Fine Smoker and Dedication

To Dedicate their Fine New Hall in the McClain Block.

The Maccabbes held a rousing business meeting and smoker Wednesday evening at the formal dedication of their fine new hall in the McClain Block and the whole affair was certainly a great success from the time the Tent was called to order by Commander Curtin until the going home of the tail enders at 11.30 p. m. After the regular opening of the Tent, Deputy Great Commander Bush visiting the Tent in his official capacity acting on behalf of the furnishing committee advanced to the altar calling commander Curtin from the chair in a short speech presented him with the key to the rooms, which was responded to in a five minute speech. The altar was was then formally dedicated to the Maccabees in a short ceremony by Commander Curtin when the regular business was proceeded with.

The business meeting having been finished three candidates were introduced and initiated into the fraternity and became members of the Bellefonte Tent No. 100 Knights of the Maccabees. Under good of the order speeches were made stories told and songs sung by Sir Knights William Runkle, Hard P. Harris, Edmund Blanchard, Jno. C. Rumberger, Laird Curtin, Ed L. Hoy, Geo. T. Bush and others, after which the tent closed and all partook of the fine luncheon provided in the the large anteroom adjoining the Lodge room. The members numbering over sixty present, then began to enjoy themselves in good fashion, cigars and pipes having been passed, with songs accompanied by the piano, of which there are several members good players, in the Tent, friendly boxing bouts between members, mock auction sales, raffling matches etc., until 11.30 when they all dispersed to their homes well pleased with a very pleasant sociable evening, well spent with the Maccabees and hoping there will be many more like them. The membership now numbers one hundred and eighty and several on the list who have not yet been initiated and many in prospect. They are certainly an active working organization and deserve the success they are meeting with in this place, the membership being composed of citizens in all the walks of life.

NOTES.

Blanchard made a dandy speech's it pleased the members.

"Rummy" is a dandy as an auctioneer they say he is going to run Jim Derr out of town

Forty new members added to the tent in the last three months "that's goin some."

The piano added greatly to the amusement and singing.

Harris makes a pretty good dutchman.

Bush would make a fine "barker" for a midway.

Billy Runkle can give a fine talk and tell a good story when called on.

The "Saratoga" boys Brachbill and Brouse gave a good account of themselves in the boute.

MRS. CORA MURRAY BITNER.

Former Centre Hall Lady Dies at Millersville.

Mrs. Cora Murray Bitner, wife of Prof. H. F. Bitner, of the Millersville State Normal School, died at her home in Millersville Saturday morning, February 8th of pneumonia.

The deceased whose maiden name was Miss Cora Murray, was the daughter of druggist J. D. Murray, of Centre Hall, and was born in that place forty-six years ago. She was a highly respected christian lady and a member of the Reformed church.

She is survived by her husband, Prof. H. F. Bitner and the following children, Harry, city editor of the Pittsburg Press; Laurence, assistant manager of Jaynes Medical Company at Shanghi, China; Ralph and Linn at home.

She is also survived by her father, J. D Murray, and one sister, Miss Agness, G. Centre Hall.

The remains were brought to Centre Hall Monday morning and services were held at the Reformed church at 12.30 o'clock Monday. Her pastor, Rev. Whitemore, of Millersville, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. D. W. Gress, of Centre Hall. Interment at Centre Hall.

FALSE AND MALICIOUS

President Roosevelt Explains Some Recent Appointments

TELLS OF HIS METHODS

Claims That he Did Not Use Patronage In Secretary William H. Tafts Behalf

REPLIES TO FOULKE'S LETTER

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Roosevelt Saturday answered the recent statement that he has made use of Federal patronage to further the Presidential interests of Secretary Taft. The answer is in form of a letter addressed to William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, Ind., and includes a letter from Mr. Foulke to the President suggesting the need of such a statement.

The letter is in the President's usual emphatic, vigorous style. He brands these charges as "false and malicious." As they were made in a paper friendly to Vice-President Fairbanks and brought to his attention by an Indiana man the President's answer is regarded as being directed particularly against the managers of the Fairbanks candidacy. The answer is regarded here as complete and convincing. It is based on detailed reports which the President received from the heads of the various departments, and he gives an analysis of all appointments sent by him to the Senate for its action to show that in no case has the proximity of a presidential contest influenced his action.

In his letter the President includes among his confidential advisers as to appointments Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania. A few days ago, in discussing with a caller the subject of Federal appointments, the President laughingly said that he had made many more appointments on the recommendation of Mr. Knox than he had for Mr. Taft. He also declared he had consulted Secretary Root and Attorney General Bonaparte.

Device for Removing Snow.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company is experimenting with a new device for removing the snow from the tracks. It differs wholly from the snow plow in general use and is designed to scoop the snow out from between the rails.

The sweeper was given a trial on the S. H. & W. division recently in charge of Superintendent L. W. Alibone.

The best that can be accomplished by the ordinary snow plow is to remove the snow on the level within the rails. What seems to be especially desirable is to remove the snow from between the rails so as to leave the inner side of the latter perfectly clear. On the inside of the rails the flanges of the car wheels require a clear space and it impedes traffic very much to permit the snow to lie on the track if only for a depth of a few inches as it is pretty sure to pack against the rails. To keep a space open for the flanges of the wheels under certain conditions of the weather it is often necessary for the section crews to shovel the snow away from the inside of the rails.

Judging from the appearance of the track where the sweeper had passed over it the new sweeper accomplished all that is desired and there will probably be little necessity for the use of shovels in the future.

Blinding Snow Storm.

Wednesday morning was probably the coldest of any this winter but it grew gradually warmer till noon. At noon a strong wind brought with it a light flurry of snow and as the afternoon passed away the snow came down faster and faster till at last the snow and wind together blinded those who were unfortunate enough to be in it. This condition of affairs kept up until sometime Wednesday leaving the earth covered with plenty of snow. The high wind caused it to drift in many places and now the country traffic and railway trains will again be greatly hindered. The snow lovers have certainly gotten enough of the chilly product by this time. The people were very quick to clean off their pavements and walks, although there is much snow on the streets, the people can walk along the pavements as if very little snow had fallen. Of course this means more fun for the young folks as the sleighing will likely continue for quite a while yet.

BELLEFONTE'S FREE DISPENSARY.

For Consumptives Who May be in Destitute Circumstances.

The State Department of Health's Centre County Dispensary for Tuberculosis, which was opened recently at Bellefonte, will play an important part in stamping out consumption in our district. The Dispensary is open Tuesdays and Fridays from 1.30 to 3.30 p. m. at the office of Dr. Geo. F. Harris who is the State Department of Health's efficient Medical Inspector for this county. Dr. Harris has been tireless in his work to get the dispensary under way. The Dispensary furnishes free medical treatment and advice to the victims of tuberculosis among the poor of Centre county. Where necessary, indigent patients are supplied with fresh eggs and milk daily. The Dispensary officials however will guard themselves against being imposed upon to furnish provisions to other members of the family. Patients are also supplied with paper sputum cups and tissue paper napkins.

Patients visiting the dispensary are carefully examined by the physician in charge of the clinic. Such medicine as is needed in given, but the principal reliance will be upon drilling into every tuberculosis sufferer the necessity of plenty of fresh air, proper diet and careful regulation of habits of life. Every patient is urged of course to sleep with windows wide open in a hammock swung out of doors if possible. The question of diet is receiving especial attention. It is easy to tell a tuberculosis patient to eat plenty of fresh eggs and drink a large amount of pure milk, but to get the patient to do this is another thing, as few of them will consume sufficient eggs without constant urging.

Usually consumptives are too warmly clad—heavy flannel underwear supplemented by thick chest pads is very often worn even in warm summer weather. The evil effects of this continual over clothing are so often apparent that great care must be taken to give proper advice. Clothing should conform to the weather. All this is covered in the advice given to those patients who visit the dispensary. As soon as the number of patients warrant it a trained nurse will be appointed on the Dispensary staff to visit the home of every tuberculosis patient who registers at the Dispensary. Inside the home the visiting nurse will find out what seems to be the trifling precautions that are unheeded but the non-observance of which is the principal cause of the spread of the infection. Is the tooth brush used by the patient kept by the side of the others at home? Is a common towel used? Does the consumptive use the same bed with any other person? Is there any disinfection of clothing, bedding, eating utensils and of all other articles used by the patient? All these things will be carefully investigated by the visiting nurse who will also ascertain if the patient is using the sputum cups and paper napkins given out at the dispensary. Every effort is being made to have the work of the dispensary known throughout the entire county of Centre so that as many as possible can take advantage of it.

John Gordon Arrested.

For some time past different articles have been missed at the Y. M. C. A., even to the extent of taking money. As it was, suspicion was not placed upon any one, but a vigilant watch kept for the petty thief. A short time ago some articles of wearing apparel were missed and the missing articles were found in the pockets of one of the members. Thinking this would put a stop to the thieving nothing further was done at the time. Many complaints were made since that time and it is alleged that several members left the organization on this account.

Recently the board of directors appropriated a sum of money to be used in apprehending the person who had been appropriating money and other things for his own use. Several coins were marked and placed in the pockets of a pair of trousers in the basement. Secretary Meserve kept a close look-out to see who went to the basement and when they returned he would examine the pockets. He found the coins there till John Gordon went to the basement and after he had returned Mr. Meserve missed the coins. They were found on the person of Mr. Gordon, and his arrest followed Tuesday evening. He was placed in jail pending a hearing before Justice Keichline Wednesday morning. The Justice returned the case to court, Gordon was released on bail.

Gordon was very prominent at the Y. M. C. A. and was on the basket ball team.

BLACK HAND ARRESTS.

Ten Italians in Jail at Sunbury Charged With Conspiracy

MEMBER TELLS SECRET

Including Plots to Murder and Reward Offered those Who Would Commit Crimes

ROUNDED UP BY THE CONSTABULARY

Sunbury, Feb. 12.—Ten Italians are in jail here, charged with conspiracy and murder. The men are alleged to be members of a high degree of the Black Hand society, and are charged by a member of the gang, who has turned informer, with having instigated many of the crimes which have been committed in the lower end of Northumberland county within the past year. Much excitement has been caused by their arrest and by the hearing which followed.

The men are all from Shamokin and Marion Heights and were rounded up in the mines and at their homes Monday by members of the state constabulary. They were given a hearing Monday evening before Justice McCormick, of Shamokin, and were brought to jail here this morning, to await trial at court.

At the hearing startling testimony was given by Joe Rivetto, who has turned informer, and who claims to have been closely associated with the men under arrest. According to Rivetto the men are all members of the Mondazano, a high order of the Black Hand society. Latigo Cassonia, of Marion Heights, is the alleged president of the society. Rivetto told of many conspiracies which had resulted in murder and other crimes, among them being that which caused the death of Anthony Nestigo.

He said that the plot was hatched at a christening at the home of Shickatana. Fifty dollars reward was offered for the murder of Joe Nestigo, and a short time after that the body of his brother, Anthony, was found lying in a brickyard at Shamokin, he having been murdered, probably in mistake for his brother. Other crimes were mentioned as well as the rewards offered. The men were all committed to jail without bail and are being kept under close guard.

Art Exhibit

By a special engagement with the Horace K. Turner Art Exhibit Company of Boston, Mass., the Bellefonte public schools have secured a set of pictures to be exhibited to the people of Bellefonte. The exhibit comprises two hundred beautiful reproductions of the world's most famous original subjects in paintings, portraits, architecture, sculpture and natural scenery, representing all stages of art. The revenue derived from this exhibit is to be expended for pictures for the schools, and to stimulate among the children an appreciation of the best pictures.

The exhibit will be held in the rooms of the Petriken Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feburary 20, 21 and 22. The admission fee is only fifteen cents. Art catalogues, at ten cents each, will be for those who wish to buy. The exhibit will be open from half-past one in the afternoon until nine o'clock in the evening.

This is a worthy move on the part of the school management and should have the encouragement of the citizens of Bellefonte. Your presence at this exhibit will help the schools buy more pictures and in turn help the boys and girls of the town.

Samuel T. Brooks.

Samuel T. Brooks, at one time a resident of Bellefonte, died at his home in Pleasant Gap Sunday evening about 7 o'clock. He had been in ill health for a number of years, and it was on this account that he removed from Bellefonte. During the six years of his residence here he was engaged in the livery business and was well known to our citizens.

Deceased was aged about 47 years, and is survived by two children, one son and one daughter. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment were made at Pleasant Gap.

THE ACADEMY TO THE FRONT.

Glass Works Meadow to be Fenced in and Converted into First Class Athletic Field.

At a banquet tendered to the Academy football warriors at the Brockerhoff House in December by Professors Spall and Sloop, Mr. James R. Hughes prophesied that within another year an enclosed athletic field would be secured for the boys of the Academy and the town and that a first class coach would be engaged for the Academy football, basket ball and base ball players for the year commencing in Sept. 1908. A gentleman of successful experience is coaching—himself a fine player in the three branches of athletics already named, and also a very thorough teacher of Mathematics and Science, has already been engaged by Mr. Hughes for next season. Today arrangements were completed whereby the absolute control of the meadow is granted to Mr. Hughes and permission given to carry out the improvements mentioned above.

All concessions for the use of this meadow therefore, must in the future be obtained from Mr. Hughes. This is an announcement which certainly will please the sport lovers of Bellefonte and vicinity. The improvements will not only prove a great attraction for, and benefit to the Academy but, of course satisfactory arrangements will be made whereby the athletic teams of the town will be able to enjoy themselves on the new field. It will cost $1800 to build the fence, bleachers and grandstand and do the necessary grading. This money is to be raised by a voting contest on the most popular business firm in Bellefonte. A voting station will be established at the "Index" another at Bush's Stationery store. Each vote will cost one cent. Every man, woman, and child in the town has reason to be interested in such a worthy enterprise and should help to boom it from the very start. The raising of the money will be an easy matter, if all work enthusiastically for their favorite store. Remember Mr. Hughes raised nearly $2000 in in 1905 by a popular subscription fund conducted by the newspapers, in order to improve the Academy grounds.

It ought to be a comparatively easy thing to raise a less sum for a purpose that is even more popular and absolutely general in its benefits. The voting boxes will be ready on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock and the first vote will be announced in the Daily News on Saturday afternoon. The result of each day's votes will appear daily in the News. The contest will continue until the money needed is raised. Let every body hustle now! The sooner the money is secured the sooner the arrangements can be completed to begin the work of improvement when the weather becomes favorable. A great contest and interesting ceremonies will mark the opening of this new athletic field.

James A. Weaver.

James A. Weaver died at his home at Lakemont Terrace, Altoona after a a brief illness from a complication of diseases. He was born at Spring Mills, this county, May 29th, 1852 hence was in his fifty-sixth year. In 1892 he removed from Gregg township to Altoona where he had been employd in the brass foundry of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He was a member of the Red Men and the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

Mr. Weaver was married three times. First to Miss Mary Folger of Spring Mill, by whom he had one son, William of Gregg township. His second wife was Miss Linnie DeLong, also of this county. To them were born a son and a daughter, Irvin, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Mrs. Olie Alles, of Williamsport. His third wife was Mrs. A. K. Rilling, of Altoona, who survives with a young son, Harry, at home. Mr. Weaver also leaves the following brothers and sisters: S. T. Weaver, of Lincoln, Kansas; J. L. Weaver, of Altoona; Mrs. William Smiley, of Utahville Clearfield county; Mrs. G. W. Storer, Mill Hall; Mrs. John Zeigler, of Abdera; Mrs. Rose Winkleman, of Flemington, and Mrs. William Rye of Penns Valley.

Telephone Meeting.

A meeting of the Bald Eagle Telephone Company was held in the Christian Science rooms at Howard on Tuesday. Business of importance was transacted and the following officers elected: President, A. K. Kaufman, of Lock Haven; secretary, Nelson E. Robb, of Harrisburg; directors, W. J. Kurtz, of Howard; W. I. Harvey, of Lock Haven; Edward Edgar, of Blanchard; Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, and H. R. Curtin, of Roland.

NOTED JUDGE MURDERED

Five Shots Were Fired and Four of These Took Effect

KILLED BY HIS SON.

Dramatic Career of Dead Man is Over—Was Accused of Being Implicated in Three Murders.

HE HAD ORDERED HIS OWN CASKET.

Jackson, Ky., Feburary 7th.—Former County Judge James Hargis, for many years member of the state democratic executive committee, accused of complicity in many killings and a prominent figure in the feuds which have disrupted Breathitt county for several years, was shot and killed in his general store here about 3 30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, by his son, Beach Hargis. The son fired five shots in rapid succession at his father, who fell dead while his clerks were waiting on customers. The exact cause of the murder has not been learned, but it is supposed to have been the result of differences which have existed between father and son for some time. The two men are reported to have had a severe quarrel several nights ago, when the father, it is alleged, was compelled to resort to violence to restrain his son. Young Hargis, it is said, had been drinking heavily of late. He came into the store late this afternoon and was apparently under the influence of liquor. Judge Hargis it is said, spoke to his son about drinking and a quarrel resulted. Father and son stepped behind a counter in the store, when the son after only a few minutes conversation, drew a revolver and fired five shots. Four took effect, Judge Hargis falling dead. The young lady stenographer and the customers in the store rushed for the doors and fled in fright.

Young Hargis was arrested by Town Marshal Goran Smith and Grover Blanton and placed in jail. He was raving like a maniac and the officers were compelled to drag him to jail.

Judge Hargis has been for years a prominent figure in Kentucky in political and criminal circles. He has figured in the courts in the mountains for years on account of the murders of Dr. Cox, Attorney Marcum and "Jim" Cockrill. Judge Hargis was the political leader of the democrats of the Tenth district and was the "boss" of Breathitt county. For years his sway was not opposed, but some years ago Mr Marcum had the temerity to oppose Hargis in a law case. From that date Marcum was a marked man. The judge had been on trial at various times for complicity in the murder of James B. Marcum, "Jim" Cockrill and Dr. Cox, but had secured an acquittal on all charges. He was recently forced to pay a judgement of $8,000 to Mrs. Marcum in connection with the death of her husband, a verdict having been found against him in the circuit court at Winchester.

Judge Hargis will be buried in a casket which he himself purchased about a month ago. Some time during the early part of last month Judge Hargis went to the National Casket company and requested that he be shown the most elaborate coffin the company had in stock. Nothing suited him and he finally ordered one along his own ideas, costing $1,500.

About 4 30 o'clock Thursday afternoon the following telegram was received by the company.

"Express today casket selected by James Hargis, as he is dead. (Signed) Mrs. James Hargis.

Express Train Wrecked.

The Washington express on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked two miles south of Franklinville, N. Y., Friday. The train was made up of only two cars, one a pullman and the other a day coach, carrying in all twenty passengers and a crew of six men. All of the passengers and four of the train crew were badly shaken up and bruised. Ten of them were taken to hospitals at Olean and Buffalo. The others were able to proceed to their destination.

The derailment is said to have been due to spreading rails, caused by the recent severe weather. The engine and tender passed the bad spot safely but the two cars rolled down a thirty foot embankment.

WONDERFUL BREAD.

The Veracious Narrative of Its Making, Baking and Sale.

"How did I happen to become a hotel clerk?" replied the man behind the desk. "Well, it was this way: I used to be a sailor. That was where I learned about whales. In fact, I was second mate of the first iron ship that ever rounded the Horn, bound from Boston to San Francisco, loaded with flour, yeast and salt to furnish grub to the California miners soon after the civil war.

"We got around the Horn all right when we ran into about the worst bit of weather ever brewed on the Pacific. Iron ships were an experiment then, and we soon found ourselves in trouble. The fresh water tanks sprang a leak, and the water ran down over the cargo. To make matters worse, the flour barrels and boxes of yeast broke loose, and with the rolling of the ship we soon had it all mixed up together. In other words, the whole ship below decks was full of dough that the rolling of the ship kneaded just as a regular breadmaking machine does out in the kitchen here. And it began to rise.

"We fastened down the hatches at first, but soon had to take them off on the lower decks or the expanding dough would burst the ship. And we put on all steam for San Francisco. We crossed the equator like a race horse, and there we made our second great mistake. The strain on the engines caused them to break down, so we had to go at half speed, and we were at a standstill for two whole days right there under a burning sun. The storm we had run out of, and the weather was clear and hot. Whew!

"Then we got under full steam again and plowed north to the Golden Gate with a deck hand sitting on the safety valve. But we were too late. The tropic sun had baked that shipload of dough into one huge loaf of bread. How to get it out of the ship was a question.

"The owners, who were the captain and one of our passengers, sold the ship just as she arrived for only half what they had paid for her new in Boston. But the new owner was a genius. He put the hungry miners to work with picks and shovels cutting out the bread and sold it at the rate of $1 a shovelful. It was the finest bread you or any one else ever ate.

"I was out of a job as second mate, and when I saw what a profit there was in that bread I just naturally went into the feeding business myself, and that's how I became associated with the hotel business. Front! Show this gentleman to the cafe."—Portland Oregonian.

Mary Stuart's Curious Watches.

Among the watches owned by Mary Stuart was a coffin shaped watch in a case of crystal. Probably the most remarkable one in her collection was the one which was bequeathed to Mary Seaton, her maid of honor. It was in the form of a skull. On the forehead of the skull was the symbol of death, the scythe and the hourglass. At the back of the skull was Time, and at the top of the head were the garden of Eden and the crucifixion. The watch was opened by reversing the skull. Inside was a representation of the holy family surrounded by angels, while the shepherds and their flocks were worshiping the newborn Christ. The works formed the brains, while the dial plate was the palate. She also possessed another skull shaped watch, but it is not known what became of it.

The Egg In Medicine.

The white of an egg is an antidote in cases of poisoning with strong acids or corrosive sublimate. The poison will coagulate the albumen, and if these poisons be in the system the white of an egg, if swallowed quickly, will combine with the poison and protect the stomach. An astringent poultice is made by causing it to coagulate with alum. This is called alum curd and is used in certain diseases of the eye. The yolk of the egg is sometimes used in jaundice and is an excellent diet for dyspeptics.

Bungle's Bad Break.

Mr. Bungle always takes a deep and sympathetic interest in the welfare of his fellow man. While out for a stroll one day he met a friend, who seemed in a great hurry.

"Hold on, Jones," said Bungle, grabbing his friend's arm. "Why this rush?"

"Bungle," said Jones, removing his hat and wiping his brow, "I'm hot footing it to a specialist. I believe my brain is affected."

Mr. Bungle, to allay the fears of his friend and show the customary commiseration, said jovially:

"Pshaw, Jones, you shouldn't worry about such a little thing as that!"

"Wh-hat?"

"I mean you shouldn't let such a little thing as your brain—that is, Mr. Jones, you shouldn't get so excited over nothing—of course—ah, good day, Mr. Jones!"—Bohemian.

Teaching the Drummer.

It was the custom in the days of our old navy for the men to bring to the mast all the wornout articles which were to be inspected, handed in and exchanged for new. The drummer had applied for so many drum heads that the commodore felt sure he was being imposed upon and one day set himself to watch while the band was playing. As one rattling martial air followed another his anger increased perceptibly until he burst forth in uncontrollable rage:

"There, now, confound you! I see why you use so many drum heads. Don't drum in the middle of it all the time. Drum all over that drum, I tell you!"

LINCOLN'S JOKE.

Fixing the Responsibility For the Loss of Harpers Ferry.

President Lincoln's jokes, especially when perpetrated in connection with grave matters, usually had a purpose in them. After Lee had taken Harpers Ferry the president, realizing how great a calamity it was to the northern arms, determined if possible to fix the responsibility for the loss of the important position.

Halleck was summoned, but did not know where the blame lay. "Very well," said Lincoln, "I'll ask General Schenck." The latter could throw no light upon the question, further than to say that he was not to blame. Milroy was the next to be called to the presence of the commander in chief and to enter a plea of "not guilty." Hooker was next given a hearing, and "Fighting Joe" made a very emphatic disclaimer of all responsibility.

Then the president assembled the four generals in his room and said to them: "Gentlemen, Harpers Ferry was surrendered and none of you, it seems, is responsible. I am very anxious to discover the man who is." After striding across the room several times the president suddenly threw up his bowed head and exclaimed: "I have it! I know who is responsible!"

"Who, Mr. President; who is it?" asked the distinguished quartet as they looked anxious, if not troubled.

"Gentlemen," said the president, with a meaning twinkle in his eye, "General Lee is the man."

There was a lack of mirth in the laugh created, and the four generals took their departure with a determination that they would not again be placed under suspicion.

SLEEP MYSTERIES.

Tasks Often Performed While the Worker Slumbers.

A psychologist was discussing the miracles of sleep.

"One can become so accustomed," he said, "to a monotonous task that one can fall asleep and still keep on working. Thus in India there are punka coolies, men who turn a fan all night long in the hot weather while their English masters rest, and it is not uncommon for a punka cooly to acquire the knack of sleeping at his task. On and on he sleeps through the hot, perfumed hours of the Indian night, but his hand mechanically and steadily turns the punka pulley.

"Men have composed great literary works in their sleep. Coleridge's 'Kubla Khan' is the most famous example of this; but, then, Coleridge was a morphinomaniac, and his sleep was scarcely natural. But R. L. Stevenson, Corelli and Longfellow have also done good work while sleeping.

"Divers sometimes fall asleep deep down in the sea, but some unknown part of their brain keeps watch, and at the proper moment, though asleep, they give the order to be hauled up. This is a good deal like the miracle that happens to all of us—the miracle whereby if we tell ourselves on retiring that we must wake at 7 we invariably do wake at that hour—how or why it is impossible to say. Some part of us watches, works, keeps awake all night, so that at 7 it may call us."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Penny For a Priceless Book.

A workingman once purchased for a penny an aged looking volume bearing date of 1540. The man tried to read it, but threw up the attempt apparently in disgust, and the volume was relegated to the cupboard. A friend of his happened to see the book and took it to the British museum authorities, who promptly made an offer of £90, the highest sum the librarian is allowed to expend without a special vote of the trustees. Had the man known what he was about he would have stood out for more, as the authorities would have paid almost any price rather than allow the volume to slip through their fingers. It was, in fact, the first book printed by Gutenberg and was therefore almost priceless.—London Tit-Bits.

Improved on Solomon.

In a certain Sunday school a little girl told the story of Solomon and the disputing mothers in this wise: "Solomon was a very wise man. One day two women went to him, quarreling about a baby. One woman said, 'This is my child,' and the other woman said, 'No, 'tain't; it's mine.' But Solomon spoke up and said: 'No, no, ladies; don't quarrel. Give me my sword, and I'll make twins of him, so you can both have one.'"

A Dubious Compliment.

"It looks well, but I am afraid it is dubious," said a financier, speaking of a proposed scheme. "Yes, it is dubious. It reminds me of the Turkish pasha and his wife.

"A Turkish pasha lay dying. He summoned to him the youngest and fairest of his forty-six wives and said to her in a low, weak voice:

"'Put on your richest costume, your most brilliant jewels. Deck your hair with pearls and brighten your finger tips with henna.'

"The young wife blushed. Even in her grief she was flattered.

"'And why, my lord,' she said, 'do you desire me to make this sumptuous toilet?'

"'So that death when it comes,' the man replied, 'seeing you so beautiful, may perhaps carry you off instead of me.'"

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Colored Man Died Happy.

Elijah Johnson, aged 23, a colored prisoner at the Detroit House of Correction, died in his cell from consumption He was sentenced to the House of Correction for robbery on January 31, 1906, for not less than three years.

When Johnson was taken sick with consumption his only fear was that his body would be sent to some medical college and be cut up. He began working harder than ever making extra time and the money he made by extra work, he gave to Superintendent McDonnell with instructions to keep it for him until he died, then to use it to bury him instead of sending his body to the medical college.

Johnson managed to keep alive until he had saved $30. He said frequently during the last few days of his life that he was willing to die now that he could have a christian burial.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Wabash Surveyors Are Working Near Altoona.

A number of surveyors are said to be laying out a railroad site for the Wabash Railroad company, which is planning to pass through Morrison's Cove, near Altoona, from Pittsburg to Philadelphia. Beginning last week the surveyors started at the extreme northern end of the valley, a short distance above Williamsburg, and have completed a survey from that point to a point at the foot of Tussey mountain, a short distance from Fredericksburg. The line passes through the centre of the Cove and cuts up some valuable farms in that section.

Stakes were driven in the ground 600 feet apart along the entire route and the owners of the properties through which the line passes were cautioned not to remove the stakes. Negotiations are said to have been begun with a number of the property owners for the sale of their farms, the prospective purchasers stating that 30 feet of ground on each side of the line of stakes was wanted.

Surveyors, who are said to be in the employ of the Wabash Railroad company during the past week have been engaged in a survey in the vicinity of Tyrone and the adjacent valley known as Turkey Valley. The survey made in that valley is said to connect with the survey made in Morrison's Cove later in the week. As soon as it was learnod that the Wabash people had surveyors at work in this section of the state, a band of surveyors was sent out from Altoona by the Pennsylvania company to see that the other company did not encroach upon their lines at any point along the route. Whether the presence of the surveyors from the Wabash people means that there will be another railroad constructed through this section of the state or whether that company is merely ascertaining the approximate cost of such a line remains to be seen.

Federation.

Federation. That is the watchword for this opening of the twentieth century to be fully realized before its close. We already have Federation in communication nearly perfected. Our world is growing very small. About all nationalities are now in touch so closely that they can stay where they are and converse by phone or otherwise.

There is an expanding Federation in business combinations, hurtful to none when done pro bono publico according to the Golden Rule.

There is a Federation in a world-wide movement for temperance, "A Universal Prohibition Temperance Federation having its headquarters in London, England.

In answer to our Lord's last prayer for his people "that they all may be one that the world may believe that thou hast sent me," we have a Church Federation bringing together all Christian denominations for co-operative concerted action.

I hope to live long enough to see the words Protestant and Roman dropped from our ecclesiastical vocabulary used only in reference to the past, so that there will be veritably a "communion of saints" and one "Holy Catholic Church."

THE PEERAGE.

Curious Points About the Nobility of Great Britain.

It will doubtless be news to the majority of people that it is within the power of the British parliament to deprive a peer of his peerage. This would only be done, however, on grounds of public policy, and such a proceeding is naturally of a very exceptional character. As a matter of fact, there is only one instance to be found on record of a deprivation of this kind. In the reign of Edward IV. George Neville, duke of Bedford, was stripped of his title and dignity on the grounds of poverty, and he died a commoner in 1483. The existing dukedom of Bedford was not created until more than a couple of centuries later.

The many people who of late years have brought forward claims to titles generally regarded as extinct and the lands which go with them may take courage from the fact that peerages die hard. In the Hastings case, for instance, the peerage was claimed and the title thereto established in 1841 after remaining unclaimed 450 years, while in 1839 the Camoys title was successfully claimed after the peerage had been in abeyance for 420 years.

There are at the present day five degrees of peerage—namely, duke, marquis, earl, viscount and baron—although for nearly 300 years from the time of the Conqueror to the reign of Edward III. there were only two, earl and baron. The latter degree is the most ancient, dating from the conquest, while it is a singular fact that no new degree of peerage has been introduced since the reign of Henry VI., who created the title of viscount in 1440.

Regarding the marriage of peers, there are one or two points which may be interesting. When a peer marries a commoner, the latter becomes a peeress and fully entitled to the privileges of peerage other than the right to sit in parliament. Furthermore, she remains noble, notwithstanding the death of her husband. If, however, during her widowhood she marries a commoner then she ceases to be a peeress. On the other hand, a peeress in her own right who is married to a commoner still remains a peeress, but does not impart her nobility to her husband. A well known example of this law, of course, was furnished by the marriage of Baroness Burdett-Coutts to William Ashmead Bartlett, who simply adopted the name of Mr. Burdett-Coutts.

Much has been written at one time or another concerning the rights, duties and privileges of peerage. Here are one or two points, however, which are not common knowledge. An English peer has the right to a summons in parliament, but he is not permitted to sit in the house until he is twenty-one years of age. Neither can a peer do so who is an undischarged bankrupt.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

From an Old Arithmetic.

These questions are from a London arithmetic of the year 1785:

A man, overtaking a maid driving a flock of geese, said to her: "How do you do, sweetheart? Where are you going with these thirty geese?" "No, sir," said she, "I have not thirty, but if I had as many more, half as many more and five geese besides I should have thirty."

A, B and C playing at hazard together, the money staked was 196 guineas; but, disagreeing, each seized as many as he could. A got a certain number, B as many as A and sixteen more and C the sixth part of both their sums. How many had each?

A gentleman going into a garden meets with some ladies and says to them, "Good morning to you ten fair maids." "Sir, you mistake," answered one of them. "We are not ten, but if we were twice as many more as we are we should be as many above ten as we are now under." How many were there?

The Hellenic Epicures.

Enormous feasts were spread at the Persian and other Asiatic courts, and the great Grecian conqueror of those regions was once or twice in his dazzling career more lavish than even the successor of Caesar. But it was not a regular habit with him, nor was reckless prodigality ever a vice of his nation. Of course there were exceptions, and that societies devoted to luxurious living existed in Athens we know from the works of Archestratus and Athenaeus, who wrote long poems to the glory of cookery. The Hellenic epicures were ingenious and often fantastic in their ideas, but were not, as a rule, guilty of gross extravagance. They were fond of such conceits as having a whole pig served, one side roasted and the other boiled and stuffed with a great variety of delicacies, although the animal had never been cut or separated in any way. Their cooks were also skillful in preparing vegetables to taste like meat.

Welsh by Extraction.

In Lord Halsbury's young days, before he was solicitor general and before he even dreamed of becoming lord chancellor, he was the leader of the South Wales circuit. In this capacity he once fought very strenuously on behalf of a Welsh public authority and rather amused his listeners by the ardor with which he identified himself with the interests of the locality.

"Come, come," interposed the judge good naturedly, "you must not argue too much in that strain. You cannot make yourself out to be a Welshman, you know."

"Perhaps not," returned the future lord chancellor, "but I have made a good deal of money out of Welshmen in my time."

"Well, well," replied the judge, "we may call you a Welshman by extraction."—London Tit-Bits.

Thompson's Stave Mill Near State College Burns Early This Morning.

The fine large stave mill of Geo. B. Thompson located on the line of the Bellefonte Central R. R. near State College was burned to the ground early this morning and was a total loss. It is not known whether there was any insurance or not the loss being about $4000. A lot of fine new machinery had only lately been put in. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin and was discovered by two of the men going to work to get steam up about 5 o'clock the whole top part of the mill was then ablaze and was soon consumed. It is understood the mill will be rebuilt immediately.

LATER—It was learned the insurance was $2000.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. WIT OF AN IRISH STORY.

Lost, as a Rule, When the Tale Is Reduced to Cold Type.

"Irish wit loses more in reduction to cold type than that of any other nation on earth." At least that is the opinion of a St. Louis Hibernian who himself furnishes many excellent examples of the article in question.

"When an Irishman perpetrates a witticism it is always tinged with a personality which in print or even in the retelling is often completely lost. There is always something—a wink, a smile, an arch expression, a shrug or gesture—that emphasizes the joke and must be seen to be appreciated. Sometimes an Irish witticism put into type is mistaken for mere dullness of superstition.

"I remember once hearing an Irishman tell a story about a wonderful old time king on the north coast who caught the devil at some trick and for a punishment made Old Harry carve his own head on one of the cliffs. The story was told as seriously as a sermon would be preached. No one could apparently be more sincere than the story teller. He seemed to believe the legend as devoutly as though it came directly from holy writ.

"After he had wound up the narrative, noticing a smile on my face, he stared in apparent surprise. 'Don't ye belave it? Sure, the old king's hammer and chisel is kept in the church beyant, and what better proof could ye ax?' And he gave a wink and a grin and spread out both hands in a gesture of expostulation just as a lawyer would when posing before a jury and putting his most convincing argument in the form of a question.

"It was the most exquisite bit of acting I ever saw. The tone of perfect conviction in which he told the story was inimitable; then the contrast from solemnity to comic dismay at the idea of any one being so grossly incredulous as not to believe the story and the wink, which indicated that he didn't believe it himself and was simply talking for amusement, were worthy of any actor that ever trod the boards. Yet in the type all this was lost. To appreciate properly the wit of an Irish story you must hear the Irishman tell it."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SOAP IS ANCIENT.

It Was Used by the Gauls as a Dressing For the Hair.

Who invented soap? That it is not a modern convenience is well known, but just when it came into general use is a mystery.

In Biblical times cleansing agents were used. The books of Job and Jeremiah contain the word "soap." But this is merely a convenient use of the word in translation. The Hebrew word "borith," for which it was substituted, is a general term for cleansing substances. What those substances were is unknown, but they were probably little like the modern soap.

Pliny speaks of the invention of soap by the Gauls, who, however, used it only as a sort of pomade or hair dressing. He also refers to the use of both hard soap and soft soap by the Germans. The use of fuller's earth, which has saponaceous qualities, for cleansing purposes was known to the Romans.

The French word for soap, savon, comes from Savona, France, where it was manufactured. The first manufacture of soap in London is said to have been in 1524, and previously Castile had supplied it for use in the English cities.

According to the historian Sismondi, a soapmaker was included in the retinue of Charlemagne, king of the Franks, at the end of the eighth century.

In the excavation of the ruins of Pompeii a soap boiler's shop was discovered, with soap in it, showing that the making of it was known in the first Christian century.

Pliny, who wrote of the eruption of Vesuvius, which destroyed the two Roman cities in 79 A. D., stated that soap was made from tallow and ashes and that the German soap was the best. Galen also referred to the use of soap.

A Gracious Negative.

"The other day I got the politest turndown," said a bond salesman, "that ever happened. I had been talking from 11 o'clock till almost noon to a man I'd known at college, trying to interest him in $10,000 of what I considered very exceptional bonds. Finally he looked at his watch.

"'Bob,' he said, 'it's lunchtime.'

"'That's so,' I answered.

"'Bob,' he went on, 'if I buy those bonds will you take me out to lunch?'

"'Of course,' I said. 'Why, sure.'

"'Well, Bob,' he concluded, 'you'd better have lunch with me this noon.'"—New York Sun.

Solitude Cures Crying.

"The best way to cure yourself of crying is to live alone," said the woman. "I used to cry an awful lot when I was married, but I hardly ever do now. It's the saddest thing in the world to hear yourself crying all alone in your flat, and what's the use anyway if there is nobody around to say 'There, there!'"—New York Press.

The Change.

"You don't love me as you used to," declared the termagant wife. "Before we were married you considered me absolutely perfect"—

"Yes," interrupted the downtrodden husband, "but now you're perfectly absolute."—Philadelphia Press.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906.

Messrs. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—

In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.

May you live long and prosper.

Yours very truly,

C. N. CORNELL.

Women Everywhere Use Pe-ru-na.

Suffered With Stomach.

Mrs. John Underwood, 520 W. Walnut St., Columbus, Ohio, writes:

"Having had catarrh and stomach trouble and having suffered very much, I, after being doctored a long while, as a last resort took Peruna. The result was wonderful. I would highly recommend it as a good remedy. I still use Peruna and would not be without it. I always have it in the house."

Catarrh and Stomach Trouble.

Mrs. T. Frech, R. R. No. 1, Hickory Point, Tenn., writes:

"I am happy to tell you that I am cured of catarrh. I have followed your good and kind advice faithfully. I bless the day when I wrote you of my condition, and I will always praise Peruna. I think it is one of the grandest medicines on earth.

"Having been afflicted with catarrh and stomach trouble for seven years and after having tried four different doctors they only relieved me for a little while. I gave up all hope of being cured. I only weighed 130 pounds, and was so weak I could hardly get around the room.

"I was induced to try Peruna, and to my great surprise I am now entirely well. My weight is now 188 pounds, my health never was better in my life.

"I shall always praise Dr. Hartman and his remedies."

Thousands of families have learned the use of Peruna and its value in the treatment of catarrhal ailments.

Tired, Worn-Out Mothers.

Mrs. Lydia H. Josselyn, 501 Westminster St., Providence, R. I., is Treasurer of the Editors League of Rhode Island, chartered in Providence. She writes:

"My experience with Peruna has been most gratifying. Last winter I contracted a severe cold, and for several days I coughed until my voice failed me. When other remedies did me no good, I decided to try Peruna, and within four days the cold was broken up, and the cough abated.

"Within another week an increase in my usual strength and vitality told me that Peruna was doing all that it promised, and more. I also consider it very superior for tired, worn-out mothers, and have advised several to try it, and have seen most gratifying results from its use.

"I give it highest praise."

Bowel Trouble.

Mrs. Maggie Durbin, 1332 North St., Little Rock, Ark., writes:

"I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said consumption of the bowels.

"One doctor said he could cure me. I took his medicine two months. But it did me no good.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, so I continued its use, and it has cured me sound and well.

"I can recommend Peruna to any one, and if any one wants to know what Peruna did for me if they will write to me I will answer promptly."

Peruna is a household remedy of great merit, and is useful in many climatic ailments, such as coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis and catarrhal diseases generally.

Biliousness, Indigestion.

Mrs. Lena R. Moudy, 556 Caywood St., Portland, Oregon, Sec'y Royal Tribe of Joseph, writes:

"For the past six years biliousness and pains in my back and limbs made life miserable to me. My skin was sallow and dry, and indigestion was added to my troubles. I was wakeful at night and would get a weak, faint feeling during the day so that I was not fitted to attend to my regular duties. This caused me serious annoyance and trouble, and I naturally tried many remedies, hoping to get relief.

"Peruna came as a friend in need. It toned up the system, relieved the blood of the poisons and induced a healthy action of the stomach, a fine appetite and restful sleep.

"Within three months I was a changed person, and for nearly a year now I have enjoyed splendid health."

A Grateful Patient.

Mrs. Eliza J. Cazee, R. F. D. 3, Bedford, Ind., writes: "I have been cured by using Peruna and Manalin. I thank you for your advice."

Restorer of Lost Strength.

Miss Bessie Farrell, 1011 Third Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., is President of the Young People's Christian Temperance Association. She writes:

"Peruna is certainly a valuable nerve and blood remedy, calculated to build up the broken-down health of worn-out women. I have found by personal experience that it acts as a wonderful restorer of lost strength, assisting the stomach to assimilate and digest the food, and building up worn-out tissues. In my work I have had occasion to recommend it frequently, especially to sick women.

"I know of nothing which is better to build up the strength of a young mother, in fact all the ailments peculiar to women, so I am pleased to give it my hearty endorsement."

Pe-ru-na a Woman's Friend.

Mrs. Ella Embree, Clark, Mo., writes: "I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I can truthfully say that Peruna is a woman's friend. I have no more terrible pains and am stronger than I have been. Your medicine has worked like a charm."

Bilious Headache.

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5649 S. Lawrence St., South Tacoma, Wash., member of Ladies of the Maccabees, writes:

"Three months ago I had an attack of biliousness which threatened to undermine my health and strength. Luckily for me, I tried Peruna at the suggestion of my friends before it was too late.

"I found in a few days time that I did not have the usual sick headache, neither did food nauseate me any longer. In two weeks' time Peruna had completely rid my system of the poison and bile, and I was in a much better condition. My skin assumed its normal color, I had a splendid appetite, and I was in every way improved in health. I used Peruna for a month longer, and it wrought a wondrous change in my entire system. I consider it a most wonderful medicine."

Nervous Dyspepsia.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant St., Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with cramps in the stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months. I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again. I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial. I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken nineteen bottles and am entirely cured. Have gained in strength and flesh and feel like a different person.

"I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Catarrh of Head.

Mrs. Joseph Vittur, 5709 Erie St., Austin Sta., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Your medicine, Peruna, was of great benefit to me. I suffered with catarrh of the nose and head for many years. Three bottles of Peruna cured me, after I had considered it impossible to ever be cured again.

"I now always keep Peruna in the house, and recommend it to every one suffering from catarrh. As soon as one of my children commence to cough I give them Peruna, and their cough is soon gone.

"This medicine is surely a great boon to suffering humanity."

Pe-ru-na the Family Doctor.

Mrs. M. E. Seymour, R. F. D. 2, Bowman, Ga., writes:

"I am ready to speak a few words in favor of Peruna and Manalin. I have tried them for nearly every ill of life for myself and family, and find them to be all the doctor claims them to be. Peruna cured me of internal trouble when my doctor could not.

"My advice to all suffering women is, consult Dr. Hartman. What he has done for me he will do for you."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

Death of Mrs. James Reilley.

The angel of death entered the home of James Reilley, of Boalsburg, on Thursday evening and took her away from the toils and miseries of this life. Her death was due to the infirmities of old age, her age being 78 years. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and that denomination will miss her ever ready and willing assistance. Deceased had numerous friends, not only in the vicinity where she lived but also throughout the county, who greatly regret her death.

Left to survive her are one sister, Mrs. Chas Shaffer, of Philadelphia, and two children, Mrs. Oscar Stover, of Boalsburg, and Miss Sallie Reilly, a trained nurse, also of Boalsburg.

The funeral services were held from the house at ten o'clock Monday morning, the Rev. W. K. Harnish to officiate. Interment were made in the cemetery at Boalsburg.

Death at Spring Mills

Mrs. Rebecca Heckman, wife of John Heckman, died at the home of her brother, Robert Smith, at Spring Mills, Friday afternoon about 12.30 o'clock. She had been ill with pneumonia for only a few days. Surviving her are her husband and three brothers. Funeral services were held at the house Wednesday morning at 9.30 o'clock. Rev. Greff pastor of the Reformed church had charge of the services. Interment at the Heckman cemetery.

The Sad Death of Frank Harris.

A dispatch from Boston says: "Watching his fortune dwindle away in a declining market, until little or nothing was left, Frank Harris, the stock broker seeing nothing but a dark and clouded future, shot himself in his apartments at the fashionable Hotel Lennox in Boston Monday. A message to his wife at her home in Bellefonte, Pa., and a message to the hotel management and to the newspapers emphasized his desire that his suicide be attributed to his financial losses."

THE ECCENTRIC SHAH.

Interesting Peculiarities of the Late Ruler of Persia.

Muzaffar ed Din, the late shah of Persia, had many interesting peculiarities which are told by the authors of "Queer Things About Persia." "He was nervous in the presence of Europeans. He used to stand with one hand on his scimiter and stroke his enormous mustache with the other in order to maintain his composure. As has been said, he used to utter some platitudes, such as: 'Thank God we have had a fortunate year. Rain has been plentiful, and we hope that God will make the harvest abundant.' If he was in a genial mood he inquired after the respective sovereigns: 'What are they all doing? Has the king of England won the yachting race? Has the kaiser killed many deer? Was the sultan of Turkey pleased with the present I sent him lately? How is the czar?' To which the Russian minister replied with forced politeness, 'How can he be anything else but well since he is noticed by your majesty?'

"Muzaffar ed Din was a good man. His court was paved with good intentions which he had not sufficient energy to carry our. Unlike his ancestors, he hated bloodshed, and while he was on the throne instances of capital punishment were rare. Though he was a great sportsman, a fine shot who could hit with a rifle a coin thrown in the air, he was as humane to animals as he was to human beings. Muzaffar ed Din was very fond of music. He detested thunder. Whenever it thundered he used to take refuge in a vault where the noise was drowned and had a mulah, especially appointed for the purpose, to calm his misgivings.

"Not long ago among the new things from Europe were little canoes in rubber which were blown out and took the shape of a boat. The shah was very interested. They were tried on the lake of a palace. Four fat nobles were embarked in one whose valve was partly opened, and the boat was pushed from land. It slowly sank till its occupants were left foundering in the water. The shah enjoyed himself vastly, especially when they were brought out looking as drenched seals. The poor men, though they got rheumatism, were delighted to have made the shah laugh. They received pensions on the spot.

"He was much interested in photography. He instituted a photographer of state, who received $2,000 a year and was expected to buy every new patent that came out. Muzaffar ed Din was photographed every half hour. If he saw a European with a camera in the street he used to stop to let him take his photograph. Every kind of machinery, from the most important invention to penny toys, interested him. It was characteristic of him to pay no more attention to Marconi's discovery than to a shilling automatic toy."—Chicago News.

Missouri and Missourah.

We are perplexed to see that a Missouri schoolma'am has been telling the Omaha people that the right way to pronounce Missouri is "Mus-our-i," with an Italian "i." It is not with the letter "i" that we have any fault to find, but with the elimination of the English "i" on the first syllable. We cannot find anywhere among the authorities on our language a precedent for giving the second sound of "u" to "i" except in words like "bird," "third" and others where "r" follows it. "Mussissippi" is as good a pronunciation as "Mussouri." There are so many mispronunciations of Missouri that perhaps one more is not a much greater distress. The chief pronunciatory thorn in Missouri is "Missourah." This thrives like the burdock in the barnyard. It is hard to remedy that twist in the culmination of "Missourah." There are politicians who take "Missourah" along with them when they go campaigning, as they do the black slouch hat. At home they can discard one as easily as they can take off the other.

Then there are others who are reared to "Missourah" as some Iowans are reared to "Ioway." Arkansas wisely decided to become "Arkansaw" by law and stick to it, which leaves "Kansas" or "Kansaw" either right or wrong. Missouri is "Missoury" by legislative enactment, and that ought to settle it, for these are the days when respect for legislative acts is extremely marked.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

EXPECTED TOO MUCH.

The Hotel Clerk Thought the Guest Got His Money's Worth.

"A friend of mine has gained considerable notoriety among the boys," said a drummer, "on account of his antipathy for many of the inhabitants to be found in the hotels of many of the small country towns. Many a time he has been known to leave his bed in the middle of the night to search for more comfortable and agreeable quarters. Recently he landed at a small town. I happened to be there that night, and when I saw him enter I immediately scented trouble. That place was known for the droves of rats which swarmed about the premises, and if there was anything my friend abhorred it was a rat. Well, he got his room. I was sitting in the lobby reading about an hour after he had retired when suddenly I was startled by a sudden racket on the upper floor. It was followed a few seconds later by my friend, his clothes under his arm, making a hurried exit from his room. Running up to the hotel clerk, he expostulated excitedly against the rats.

"'They ran all over the bed and all over the floor. Finally I tried to shoo them out. I turned on the light, and there were two big ones in the center of the floor fighting like tigers.'

"'Well, what do you want for 50 cents,' calmly asked the clerk, 'a bullfight?'"—Exchange.

Pipes and the Lips.

The constant habit of smoking pipes has a perceptible effect upon the face. The pressure of the lips to hold the pipe in position increases the curvature of the lips round the stem, and the muscles become more rigid here than in other parts. Thus the lips at a certain point become stronger, and the pipe is unconsciously held in the same habitual position. After long continuation of the habit small circular wrinkles form parallel with the curvature of the lips around the stem. These are crossed by finer lines caused by the pressure of the lips to retain the stem in position. In the case of old men who have smoked a pipe for years the effect upon the lips is very marked, not only altering the form of the lips, but of the one entire side of the face, causing the wrinkles that are the result of age to deepen and instead of following the natural course of facial wrinkles to change their course so as to radiate from the part of the mouth where the pipe is habitually carried. Furthermore, one or both lips often protrude, just like the lips of people who used to suck their thumbs when children.—Medical Record.

"My Mother's Hands."

The late Mrs. Oliver Seibert, on receiving the following verses from an absent son, requested that they be published after her death:

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
They're neither white nor small:
And you, I know, would scarcely think
That they are fair at all
I looked on hands whose form and hue
A sculptor's dream might be;
Yet are those aged wrinkled hands
More beautiful to me.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
Though heart were weary and sad
Those patient hands kept toiling on,
That her children might be glad.
I always week, as looking back
To childhood's distant day,
I think how those hands rested not,
When mine were at play.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
They are growing feeble now,
For time and pain have left their mark
On hands and heart and brow.
Alas, alas, the nearing time,
And the sad, sad day to me,
When 'neath the daisies out of sight,
Those hands will folded be.

But oh! beyond this shadow land,
Where all is bright and fair,
I know full well these dear old hands
Will palms of victory bear;
Where crystal streams in endless years
Flow over golden sands,
And where the old grow young again,
I'll clasp my mother's hands.

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicines of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y. has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood-purifier and heart regulator also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and out-spoken movement on the part of Dr Pierce, has by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all carping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

C. M. Parrish's New Departure

After two months of remarkable sales, C. M. Parrish the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success they have ever known.

They have sold hundreds of bottles of the specific; and as yet has not had one returned, although he stands ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied. This is the strongest testimony that can be furnished to the great merit of this medicine.

Anyone suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inative liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of C. M. Parrish's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules, very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr. C. M. Parrish special half price order this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

Cause of Explosion a Mystery.

The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the death of the nine men killed in the recent boiler explosion at Northumberland and to investigate the cause, after hearing the testimony of a number of witnesses could not determine how the accident occurred and rendered their verdict accordingly.

Additional Locals.

—Bitter medicine is generally good.

—Nine ex-sheriff,s of this county are still living.

—A person never gets so smart they cant learn more.

—Why not get a little ambition about you and boom Bellefonte.

—Good clothes dont make the man, but they often help him along.

—If you haven't got your side walks cleaned off you'd better hustle.

—People judge you by what you do, not by what you think or speak.

—Many people give good advise but they dont follow it them selves.

—Many people fail in this world because they refuse to take good advise.

—If you dont appreciate what your friends do for you, they will soon do nothing for you,

—The way to obtain the best results is to choose a good mark and then aim to make that mark by devoting your entire time to it.

—Did you ever stop to think that every act you do, that every word you speak, that every thought you think, will make the world worse or better.

—Do not do your work twice for many men have spelled f-a-i-l-u-r-e in the manner. Do each thing well as it comes to you and you will have no need to do your work twice.

—In a wreck on the Cambria and Clearfield division of the Pennsylvania railroad Monday morning one man was killed and eight men injured. Three engines, a baggage, a mail and four steel coal cars were demolished. It is supposed there was a misunderstanding of orders, which resulted in a head-on collision of the Cherry Tree accomodation and a freight train.

—The masquerade skate given at the Armory rink Tuesday proved a success in every feature and was attended by a large number of skaters as well as many who went to enjoy an evening of pleasure. The Coleville band furnished music for the evening. The masqueraders were attired in a variety of gay and fancy costumes representing many different characters. The grand march was led by Mr. Robert Montgomery and Miss Lucretia Williams. The cash prizes of $5 each for the best gentlemen's costume and best lady's costume were rewarded to Mr. Jay Wallace and Miss Gertrude Taylor.

—The Sons of Veterans, a national order, have designated Lincoln's birthday as Union Defenders' day, and a more appropriate name could not have been suggested. In many places they observe it with special services in commemoration of the immortal defender of national union. Coming so near as it does to Washington's birthday, makes it a task too great for school teachers and scholars to properly observe both and in many instances exercises commemorative of both national heroes are held at the same time. Truly the life of Lincoln is one to be impressed upon the life of every school boy and girl in the land.

—Will a merchant who is wise ever cease to advertise? Yes—When the trees go upside down; when the beggar wears a crown; when ice forms on the sun; when gold dollars get too cheap; when secrets keep; when a fish forgets to swim; when Satan sings a hymn; when girls go back on gum; when the small boys hates to drum; when no politician schemes; when mince pies makes pleasant dreams; when its fine to break a tooth; when all lawyers tell the truth; when you love to smell a skunk, when cold water makes you drunk; when the drummer has no "Brass" —when these things all come to pass, then man that's wise will neglect to advertise.

When your Watch Stops

You cannot make it go by shaking it.

When the bowels are constipated you can disturb them with cathartics but, like the watch, they will not be able to do their allotted work until they are put into proper condition to do it.

One cannot mend a delicate piece of mechanism by violent methods, and no machine made by man is as fine as the human body.

The use of pills, salts, castor-oil and strong cathartic medicines is the violent method. The use of the herb tonic laxative, is the method adopted by intelligent people.

Lane's Family Medicine

Headache, backache, indigestion, constipation, skin diseases—all are benefited immediately by the use of this medicine.

Druggists sell it at 25c. and 50c.

ANNUAL STATEMENT.

Following the custom of Centre County papers the Bellefonte Republican have had their mailing list reset and the date to which your subsciption is paid will be found opposite your name on the label. We believe this will be a great convenience to our subscribers enabling them to see at a glance just when they are paid to. Quite a number of our readers are in arrears and we know this would not be the case had they received statements of their accounts.

The expenses of running a newspaper have increased greatly during the last year. White paper alone costs 50 per cent more than it did one year ago. Other expenses have increased accordingly. At this time of year all business houses make an effort to collect bills so as to meet their obligations promptly and start the new year square. We hope during the month of January to send a statement to every subscriber in arrears, but you don't need to wait for this. Send in your money and make your label read '08 or '09.

Remember the subscription price is $1.50 per year but if paid in advance it is $1.00

THE PUBLISHER

The National Flag.

There is no possession of a country which is more deeply revered, more consistently loved, or more loyaly supported than its national flag. In our country is this especially true, for in that one emblem are embodied all the principles which our forefathers upheld, all the benefits of a century and a quarter of enlightened progress, and all the hope and assurance of a promising future.

The stripes of alternate red and white proclaim the original union of thirteen States to maintain the Declaration of Independence. Its stars, white on a field of blue, proclaim that union of States constituting our national constellation which receives a new star with every State. Thus, the stars and stripes signify union and "in union there is strength."

The very colors have a significance. White stands for purity, red for valor and blue for justice, together forming a combination which it is our inherited privilege to honor and uphold.

It is not the flag of a king, or an emperor, or a President. It is the flag of the people, brought into being by their will, defended when necessary by their patriotism, and to which they turn for protection in time of danger. No matter into what parties our people may be divided, due to political beliefs and leanings, they all stand united under one flag. It is the emblem of unity, safety and faith.—St. Nicholas.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is—give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says.

Ayer's We publish our formulas. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just ask your doctor. He will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it, at once!" he will say. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable.

Lock Doors, Fight Duel

A duel between two Italians occurred in Dubois Friday and Frank Ferro is dead and Jose Bruccesi is fatally stabbed.

The fight took place in an Italian boarding house behind locked doors. The men had had some trouble during the day. In the evening when they came home they continued their quarrel and going to a room where a party of other Italians were seated they asked them to retire until they settled the trouble. When their friends heard a second and forced the door they found Ferro dying and Bruccesi fearfully cut about the head. The men had fought with a razor and a stiletto.

NEAR THE RECORD MARK

New York Only One Degree Above Wednesday Morning.

LAKE PLACID COLDEST

At That Point in the Adirondacks Half a Hundred Below the Zero Mark Was Registered.

A VERITABLE BLIZZARD RAGED

New York, February 5. With the thermometer registering a temperature of one above zero at 7 a. m. New York experienced a taste of real winter. It was three degrees colder than any previous day this winter and within one degree of the cold weather record in New York for the past five years.

The city lodging houses and the covered pier of the Charities Bureau were overcrowded with homeless men last night.

The body of an unkown man, who had crept into the coal bunkers of a steamer lying at a dock in Brooklyn and frozen to death during the night was found today. New York Harbor was filled with a great field of broken drift ice, which imbeded the passage of all except the powerful steamers, tugs and ferryboats, and the Hudson river a few miles above the city was frozen over solidly. For the first time this winter a vapor formed over the bay, and ice was formed along the shores of Staten Island.

Philadelphia, February 5.—Philadelphia Wednesday experienced the coldest weather in four years, the weather bureau thermometer registering five degrees above zero at 7 30 a. m.

The past three nights have been the coldest three successive nights in Plattsburg in more than ten years. Thermometers registered twenty-two below thirty-five below at Upper Chateaugay, forty-five to fifty below at Lake Placid, forty-two below at Saranac Lake, and forty-eight below at Lake Clear Junction.

Allentown, February 5.—Five degrees below zero was the lowest point recorded by the thermometer in Allentown Wednesday.

A New Senator's Humor.

Senator Johnston, of Alabama, owns a beautiful home in Birmingham and takes a great delight in donning a pair of overalls and a split hickory hat and working in the garden. One day shortly after the expiration of his last term as Governor a fashionably-dressed woman, who had resided in Birmingham only a short time and had never seen Johnston, called on his wife. No one answered the bell, so she walked out among the flower beds where the ex-Governor was hoeing some geraniums. He bowed and she asked him how long he had worked for the Johnstons.

"A good many years, madam," he replied.

"Do they pay you well?"

"About all I get out of it is my board and clothes."

"Why, come and work for me," she said. "I'll do that and pay you so much a month besides."

"I thank you, madam," he replied, boying very low, "but I signed up with Mrs. Johnston for life."

"Why no such contract is binding. That is peonage."

"Some may call it that, but I have always called it marriage."

The Soul Kiss Waltz Song.

Maurice Levi has written some music that has set old New York humming and whistling. It is the Soul Kiss Waltz Song, from the soul kiss operetta, as produced by F. Ziegfeld, jr., at the New York Theatre. By special arrangement with Mr. Ziegfeld and Mr. Levi the Sunday World of Feb. 9 will present the words and music of this song in the Sunday Magazine Section, with colored cover design by Cesare.

Worry others and worry you;
Here's a secret between you and me,

He Deserved the Wat

A little boy who had been [illegible] a watch in a too indefinite [illegible]ture showed a tendency to revert to the subject with a frequency which finally overcame the patience of his irate father. "If you say 'watch' again in my presence I'll thrash you!" was the ultimatum. Next morning at prayers, when each member of the family offered a Bible verse, the boy demurely gave his as he fixed his parent with his eye and repeated, "What I say unto you I say unto all, Watch!"

A Woman's Face.

No words can express the almost divine love and tenderness and the perfect trust and happiness of that girl wife's face as she looked into the eyes of her husband—and smiled. Other holiday impressions may grow dim and fade away, but that sweet woman's face remains stamped on my memory forever.—Wynne in London Reader.

An Unmentioned Ancestor.

Mr. B. is very proud of his ancient lineage and never lets slip an opportunity to boast of it. At a dinner where he had been unusually rampant on this subject a fellow guest quieted him by remarking:

"If you climb much farther up your family tree you will come face to face with the monkey."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

GOLD COINS.

Why Bankers Don't Like Them and Prefer to Handle Paper.

"Of the different kinds of American money now in circulation the gold coins of all denominations are the most disliked in my business," said a prominent New York banker.

"Take a greenback, a silver or a gold certificate or a national bank note to your bank and it is received and placed to your credit without a moment's delay. Not so with gold. A few days ago a gentleman brought to our bank upward of $3,000 in gold of different denominations and was much provoked because we would not receive it and give him credit with the amount the face of the coin represented. This we could not do because the law requires that gold shall be redeemed only at its actual value. Coins carried in the pocket for any length of time naturally lose something by abrasion—probably but a fractional part of a cent on a ten dollar piece, but it is a loss nevertheless—and therefore bankers cannot give credit for gold deposits until the coin shall have been weighed. In the case mentioned my friend took his gold to the subtreasury and was compelled to wait there nearly an hour before he could get notes for it.

"Every coin had to be passed through the scales, and after the weighing process had been completed three of the coins—two five dollar pieces and a ten dolar piece—were returned to him as short in weight. Before returning short weight coins the department stamps on the face of each coin a cross. The owner is either left to send the coins to the United States mint for redemption or again put them into circulation. Eventually the coins with crosses on their faces will go to the mint and be redeemed at their actual value. In many instances there may not be more than several cents' shortage on $50 worth of coins. Business men, however, naturally object to the inconvenience and get rid of their gold as fast as possible."—New York Press.

The Spanish Royal Standard.

The Spanish royal standard is most complicated. The red and yellow of the Spanish flag is said to be derived from this occurrence: In 1378 Charles the Bold dipped his fingers in the blood of Geoffrey, count of Barcelona, and drew them down the count's golden shield in token of his appreciation of the latter's bravery. The shield, so marked, became the arms of Barcelona, which became part of Aragon, and its arms were taken by that kingdom. Now to the royal standard: In the first quarter or upper left hand part of the flag are the arms of Leon and Castile, the lion and the castle. The second quarter is taken up one-half by the arms of Aragon, one-half by the arms of Sicily. The upper third of the third quarter—directly under the first—shows the Austrian colors. The lower two-thirds is divided between the flag of Burgundy and the black lion of Flanders. The upper third of the fourth quarter shows the checkers, another Burgundian device, while the lower two-thirds is shared by the red eagle of Antwerp and the golden lion of Brabant, and on the top of all this are two shields, one showing the Portuguese arms, the other the French fleur-de-lis. Considerable of a flag that.

Need For Dust Sheets.

Every housekeeper should be amply provided with dust sheets, which can be thrown over upholstered chairs, sofas and other items of furniture when the rooms undergo their periodical "turnout."

Old worn bed linen is often used for this purpose, but when it is very thin and torn it ceases to be a protection, and the dust filters through and spoils covers and paint.

Calico and print are much the best materials to use, and the initial expense involved in investing in stocks of these dust covers is amply repaid over and over again.

Two widths of the material sewed together and hemmed are sufficient for ordinary use, two yards square being of ample size for an armchair.

When the covers are washed they should be well starched and ironed, the glazed surface being most effectual in keeping out dust.

Magnetic Toys.

Magnetic toys, such as swans, fish, boats, etc., may be made of any light material, such as cork or elder pith. Much pleasant occupation for evenings may be found in shaping these light objects, and if a small piece of steel or iron be placed in some prominent part of the object it will float about in the water in obedience to the movements of a magnet held near it. Broken pieces of needles, if carefully handled, do very well to fasten into the floating objects and serve as points to be attracted by the magnet.

The Spirit of Winter.

The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways—sometimes by cheery sunshine and glistening snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is not much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them—Hood's Sarsaparilla—is easily obtained and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

No Case on Record

—"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

Grippe is sweeping the country. Stop it with Preventics before it gets deeply seated. To check early colds with these little Candy Cold Cure Tablets is surely sensible and safe. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were promptly broken. Also good for feverish children. Large box, 48 tablets, 25 cents. Vest pocket boxes 5 cents. Sold by Green's Pharmacy

ONLY ONE.

The Record in Bellefonte is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Bellefonté citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

Mrs: Emma J. Davis of E. Logan St. Bellefonte, Pa. says; I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Snow Shoe reports 29 degrees below zero Sunday morning.

—S. H. Diehl, of Bellefonte, has decided to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer.

—The amount of insurance which Mr. Wm. L. Steele received on his loss caused by the disastrous fire on Sunday evening was $2450

—The fourth annual banquet of the Centre county association was held at the Hotel Rittenhouse, Philadelphia, Tuesday evening.

—The first mail ever delivered in Loganton by train, was received at the post office in that place Monday morning at 11 50, over the White Deer and Loganton railroad.

—Jacob Woodring, of Port Matilda, one of the old line Republicans of the Bald Eagle Valley has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner.

—Lock Haven Methodists want the York conference to send them Rev. W. P. Shriner as their pastor. He is now stationed at Carlisle. His many friends will be glad to see him located so close to Bellefonte.

—It might be well and surely not out of order to ascertain whether the water is frozen in the fire plugs throughout the town something that has frequently occurred heretofore. The continued cold weather may have effected them and in case of an emergency it would be well to be secure.

—The 4th Quarterly Conference of the Methodist church was held in the lecture room of the church Friday evening and by a unanimous vote they decided to ask for the return of Rev. J. B. Stein to Bellefonte for another year by the next conference which meets at York, the latter part of March.

—A small yellow dog was caught in a belt of the paper machines at the paper mills in Lock Haven last Friday morning and caused a shut down till the dog could be released. The wheels had to be turned in a reverse direction before it could be dislodged, and strange to say, the dog limped away apparently not much hurt.

—Sunday morning was the coldest morning of the winter and the older residents say it was the coldest in twenty-five years. Out at the Nittany furnace the thermometer registered 20 below zero. Other thermometers in town registered from 12 to 20 degrees below. It was one of those still cold mornings that penetrate.

—The passenger train on the Bellefonte Central railroad due here at 6.30 p. m. had a little wreck near Water street, Coleville, on Thursday evening. Mr. Gephart was on the train and he noticed the car rocking pretty roughly and jumped up horridly rushing to the door. But conductor Parker was at the door and told the passengers not to be afraid, thereby averting a panic? Conductor Parker soon got another coach and safely transferred his passengers to town.

—Before Mrs. Louisa Harris left Bellefonte on Wednesday for Philadelphia to attend the funeral of Mrs. William Harris, she placed everything in order here and closed her house, as she will spend the winter in Philadelphia. Mrs. J. P. Gephart, one of her boarders has gone into rooms in the Hibler house on Allegheny street; Miss Sallie Hagerman has gone to Miss Emily Natt's and Miss Mary Cook has taken a room in the Brockerhoff house, and will board there.

—The all day meeting held Thursday in the court house in the interest of local option was attended by a number of delegates from various parts of the county. A temporary organization was formed by electing W. B. Mingle of Centre Hall, president, and C. C. Shuey of Bellefonte, secretary. It is the purpose to organize a local branch of the anti-saloon league and to this end a committee was appointed an permanent organization which will report at a meeting to be held in the near future.

—Both sides to the case of the Nittany Valley railroad company vs. the Nittany Iron company, which was heard before Judge McClure in this place last Thursday and Friday, very amicably agreed to leave the question of a verdict entirely in the hands of the court without any argument. The action is to recover a bill of $74,000 which the Nittany Valley railroad company claims is due them from the Nittany Iron company for freight tonage. etc. After the evidence was all heard it was agreed that the two parties should file briefs within ten days then leave the question of the verdict entirely with the court to decide.

—The county commissioners are busy this week distributing election ballots.

—On Friday the B. C. R. R. only made two trips owing to the drifted condition of the road.

—On Friday the P. R. R. placed orders for 55,000 tons of new rails. This means work for many men.

—The Centre County Medical Association held a very interesting meeting in Court House Tuesday morning.

—Most people are convinced that for the present the ground hog as a weather prophet knows his business.

—Mr. William Reasner, who lives on the Purdue farm near Coleville, was admitted to the Bellefonte Hospital for treatment.

—A force of men were put to work Monday morning at the Nittany furnace to make repairs preparatory to resuming operation about March 1.

—John Porter Lyon has leased Geo. A. Beezer's livery stable on Water street and will move his garage and repair shop there from the Bush Arcade on April 1st.

—The snow shoe passenger, supposed to leave here at 5.30, was piloted with two engines on Thursday evening. Coming over the mountain they used three engines.

—Roy Schlegle, of Washington, D. C., was in Bellefonte last week and bought a car load of horses from Centre county farmers which he shipped to the national capital on Saturday.

—An exchange gives sound advice when it advises residents not to cover fire plugs with snow. It may be the cause of much delay in case a plug would be covered when needed.

—The many friends of D. J. Meyer of Centre Hall, who for over a year was in poor health, will be glad to learn that he has completely recovered under the ministrations of Dr. Hoffer Dale and is now as well apparently as ever.

—Harry E. Shook, son of Mrs. Sarah J. Shook, who is now located in Williamsport as the efficient manager of the Harris Studio, underwent a serious operation, in that city last Thursday, and at this time is getting along fine.

—A freight wreck occurred in the west end of the Tyrone yards Saturday afternoon and completely blocked traffic for several hours. The wreck was caused by a broken flange and eleven cars were demolished. No one was injured.

—The Centre County scalp account for the month of January shows that there were killed 144 weasels, 82 foxes, 39 minks, and 13 wild cats, costing the state $399, but rendering much good to the communities in which they were killed.

—Paul Neff, baggage master on the Snow Shoe train has been transferred to Tyrone to run on the mountain between Tyrone and Grampian. Paul has made many friends in Bellefonte and Snow Shoe. We wish him success in his promotion.

—Hard luck seems to be stalking Baum's livery right along. On Wednesday Alf with his team of sorrels hitched in a sleigh drove a traveling man to Pennsvalley. While at Boalsburg the one horse got in a snow drift and in plunging to get out fell over the tongue of the sleigh and broke its leg with the result that the animal had to be shot.

—Mr. W. L. Steele, who had such a disastrous fire at his home on Pine street Sunday night, presented each of the fire companies with $15.00 as a token of his appreciation of their efforts in his behalf. It was a very bad night for fire and bitter cold but in spite of this the fire companies did valiant work and deserve the thanks and praise of the community.

—The Snow Shoe train was two hours late on Wednesday evening, and used three engines coming over the mountain. The Lewisburg was one hour late this morning and had two engines. The other engines made remarkably good time considering the condition of the railroads. In fact it seems wonderful that they can run at all without being wrecked.

—The adjuster for the Aetna Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., was in Bellefonte last Thursday and adjusted the loss on the furniture of W. L. Steele. On Monday Mr. Steele received the company's draft for the amount allowed him. He considers this prompt and satisfactory service on the part of the company and a great credit to the local agent Mr. H. E. Fenlon to represent a company that adjusts and settles its losses so promptly.

—On Thursday Mrs. Forest L. Bullock sustained some very serious injuries as the result of a bad fall. Mrs. Bullock was shaking a rug and was standing on a porch about 12 feet above the ground. There was a low railing around the porch and Mrs. Bullock was leaning against the railing when both feet slipped out from under her and she fell over the railing to the ground. One of George Jodon's boys noticed her falling and told his mother. She took Mrs. Bullock into the house, where she lay unconscious for more than two hours. The heavy snowfall undoubtedly lessened the force of the fall a great deal and, although Mrs. Bullock will probably recover she received some very painful injuries.

—We are glad to see William Heckenberry out again after a severe attack of typhoid fever.

—The young people are enjoying the pleasures of winter in coasting on Bishop and Allegheny streets.

—Mr. and Mrs. Newton Haupt of South Spring Street are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy.

—Mr. R. B. Holter, of Howard, has succeeded William F. Shope as Local Editor of the News and Republican.

—The extreme cold weather of the past two weeks has enabled the ice man to harvest a first-class crop of his commodity.

—The young folks of Kennedy gave a musical in the M. E. church at that place Saturday evening for the benefit of the church, and realized $18.00

—John Kaup has developed typhoid fever and was admitted to the Bellefonte Hospital on Sunday for treatment. His condition Wednesday was reported to be very serious.

MARRIED—Tuesday at noon, at the Reformed parsonage. Mr. Luther G. Peters of Oak Hall and Miss Cora B. McClintic of Linden Hall. The Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt officiating.

—William F. Shope, who for the past two months has been Local Editor of the News and Republican, left the employ of this office Saturday last and is now collector and solicitor for the Bell Telephone Company at this place. We wish him success in his new position.

—The ministers and one layman from each church met Monday to discuss the situation of the poor in Bellefonte. Committees were appointed to make a canvass of the town to solicit aid in relieving those who are in distress. It is hoped that all will lend a helping hand in this good cause.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Laurette K. Hafer of Bellefonte Pa., to Mr. Francis S. Hamilton, jr. of New Haven, Conn. Miss Hafer is a graduate of the Connecticut Training School for nurses and resides at 16 York square. Mr. Hamilton is a well known Insurance man in that city.

—Mr. James Gallagher was handed a draft for $500 Saturday by Record Keeper Geo. T. Bush of the Maccabees being in full payment of the policy for $500 taken out by his son James L. Gallagher on Dec. 11th the last and on which but one payment of 50 cents had been made, he died on Jan. 18, of Typhoid Fever at the Bellefonte Hospital.

—It is reported that some man (?) is chasing people in this town around after night. This man chased Miss Rowe home from Dr. Seibert's residence one evening this week and also chased Miss Mary Ray to her home from Shaffer's store It is said the man wears a brown derby and a long coat. This fellow wants to be careful or he will run across the wrong party some night.

—Last year the people of the United States spent $315,000,000 for electrical manufactures, yet many men still in active business remember the time when some simple instruments in college laboratories, practical utility, covered the whole field of electrical knowledge. The world is unable to define electricity, but has learned much about what may be done with it.

—A peculiar accident happened on the Pennsylvnia railroad at Canan's Station Friday afternoon when a train going from Altoona struck a huge snow drift with such force that the snow flying into the open engine cab pinned the engineer, Elmer E. Kirby to his seat. The fireman seeing his predicament at once shut off the power and with the assistance of a brakeman shoveled the snow away from the engine seat and released him.

—Postoffice Inspector Clark was in Lewistown recently, investigating irregularities of the mails. A number were fined ten dollars for having enclosed messages in packages that were sent through the mails at the merchandise rate. A common violation is that of writing on the margin of newspapers and mailing them by placing a one cent stamp on the wrapper. Those who are caught doing these tricks find it dear in the end.

—The next event of importance at the Opera House will be the engagement of Clarence Bennett's production of "A Royal Slave" and the management of the theatre is to be congratulated upon securing an attraction of such magnificence The play, which deals with life in Old Mexico, at the most romantic time in its history, during the reign of the unhappy Maximilian, abounds in many thrilling situations, at the same time containing a beautiful love story of interest. Feb. 17, 1908.

—The extreme winter weather of the past week recalls to old citizens their experience of past years, and especially interesting is that related by W. L. Malin of Bellefonte. He informs us that it was just forty years Monday morning since he opened the office of the Western Union Telegraph company here, and that for one whole week the thermometer never went above zero. It was one of the old-fashioned winters that we so often hear our fathers speak of. It froze up in November and there was lots of snow throughout the whole winter. It may also be recalled to those who resided here at the time that an epidemic of small-pox visited Bellefonte.

Two Single Track Bridges.

The work on the new Linden bridge of the Pennsylvania railroad has been progressing in spite of cold weather, two spans of the iron work being in place. The riveting and bolting work remains to do. The two spans represented only one side of the structure, which is to be a double track affair consisting of two single track bridges, says the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

The explanation of the building of the bridge in this form is interesting. While both bridges rest on the same piers and abutments, if they have no connection so far as the bridge proper is concerned it means that there will be less wear on the structure than if the two tracks were to run through the same bridge.

The constant vibration that a bridge undergoes when there are many trains passing over it results in much hard wear. The new Linden bridge, because of its peculiar construction, will really have the wear from this source reduced one half. A train passing over the westbound track of the bridge will not cause the eastbound to vibrate, and vice versa. Of course there is the additional advantage of making it possible to keep the one bridge in use even if some serious trouble should place the other track out of service. Much attention is being attracted to the bridge because of its new form of construction.

—Daniel Sanders died Monday from injuries received in the explosion of a boiler at Van Alen's rolling mills in Northumberland on February 2. Sanders is the ninth victim of the explosion Seven were killed when the accident occurred, and one other subsequently died of injuries.

A Bold Hold-up.

Andrew Shivery, son of Harry Shivery, of Buffalo Run, was the victim of a hold-up on Monday evening and only his presence of mind and nimble legs prevented him meeting with dire consequences. Andy had been in Bellefonte on a rather pleasant mission and started to walk home. At the big spring he met a man who accosted him and after exchanging one or two commonplace remarks the stranger asked Shivery how he would like to take a bath. Of course at the proper time and under auspicious conditions Andy would not been averse to a little dip but with zero weather and nothing but the big spring in sight in which to take a plunge he did not take it very kindly. In the few seconds he spent in pondering an answer he happened to glance at the man's right hand and there he saw a knife; one that looked to be anywhere from eight inches to a foot in length. That decided the bath question and with a quick movement he knocked the feet from under the stranger and tumbled him into the snow then took to his heels and went home in about a 1.59 clip. The stranger, who was thought to be an Italian, started after him, but Shivery, being late, was in a hurry to get home, and the hold-up man was soon left far in the rear and disappeared in the darkness.

Philip A. King Dead.

The many friends of Philip King will be sorry to hear of his sudden death which occurred at his home in Wilkesbarre Feb. 3d. Mr. King's death was caused by a severe attack of pneumonia with which he was stricken only four days before he died. He was married to Miss Katie Steinkirchner in St. John's Catholic church in this place ten years ago.

While in Bellefonte he was representing the Metropolitan Life Ins., Co. later moved to Williamsport where they resided five years then located in Wilkesbarre, where he was employed as a salesman up to the time of his death. Deceased is survived by his wife, his father Patrick King, and the following brothers and sisters, Mathew, of Canton, Pa.; John, of Seattle, Washington; Dr. F. H. King, of Williamsport, Pa.; Joseph of Lawrenceville, Pa.; James, of Lyons, N. Y.; Sister M. Hilary, Mt. St. Marys Scranton, Pa.; Sister M. Waltruel, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Michael McCarthy, Kane, Pa.; Mrs. Jennie Dawne, Canton, Pa.; Miss Agnes King, Newark, N. J. Mr. King's remains were taken to Canton where they were interred in the family lot. Services were held in St. Michaels Catholic church, Canton, Pa., consisting of a requeim mass, by the Rev. Father Lawrence of Jersey City, New Jersey. Deceased was 35 years old at the time of his death. Those who attended the funeral from Bellefonte were Miss Kate and Joseph McGowan.

Academy Defeats Big Five.

The Bellefonte Academy Basket Ball team overwhelmingly defeated the "Big Five" of Tyrone on Saturday evening in the gymnasium by the one sided score of 54—16. A large and interested crowd of spectators had been attracted to the game through the unfortunate articles that had appeared in the Tyrone and Altoona papers relative to the recent Tyrone Y. M. C. A. contest played in Bellefonte. It goes without saying that the spectators were much pleased with the clever and victorious playing of the boys. It is due to the Tyrone team to say that their captain was unable to be present by reason of sickness. However the abundance of basket ball players in Tyrone and Altoona always enables Tyrone to secure good substitutes. The Academy played without Captain Heiner, owing to an injury to his hand, but Lingle, formerly of the Academy team, played in Heiner's place most satisfactorily.

The game the Academy boys put up on Saturday would have defeated the best team that could have been secured as opponets. The "shooting" of Myers, Lingle and Laderer was of a professional character.

The Academy seemed "out of Tyrone's class" when the teams met in Tyrone earlier in the season. What will our Tyrone friends think of it now, we wonder.

"Bobby" Burns of State College refereed very fairly for both sides.

Girl's Abdomen Pierced by a Revolver Bullet.

Miss Margaret Woodring, a 12 years' old girl of Benzette, was taken to Lock Haven on the 1.09 train Thursday morning, which was over two hours late and taken to the Lock Haven hospital where her life hangs in the balance.

A brother of the girl, aged 15, was carelessly handling a loaded revolver, which he had taken from a bureau drawer in a bed room of their home, when the weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the girl's left side and passing through the abdomen, coming out on the right side.

An operation was performed on the girl as soon as possible after her arrival at the hospital, when the punctured intestines were sewed up and the internal hemorrhage stopped.

Although everything possible has been done and will continue to be done to save the girl's life, the chances are not good for her recovery.
